Looking to the Future

Dawson Today

Dawson Estate contains vacant land cleared through the demolition of older flats in the 1980s and 1990s. Some of the vacant land have already been developed, such as Clarence Ville and Forfar Heights.

The latest SERS replacement site at Strathmore Avenue was completed in mid 2010.

The remaining large tracts of vacant land will give opportunities for regeneration to take place.

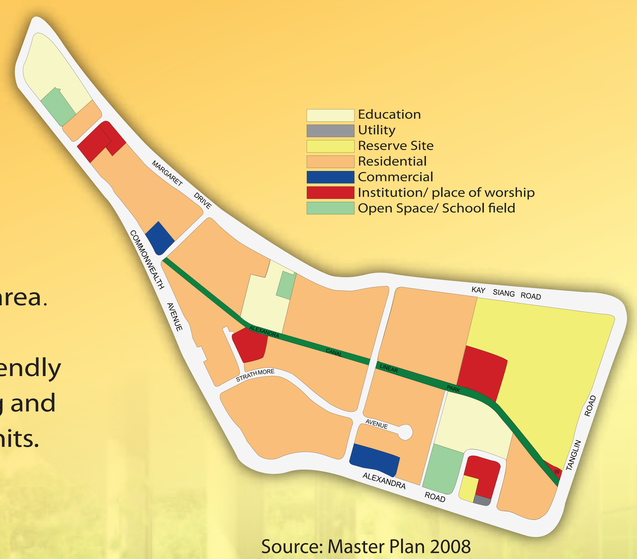
Clarence Ville

Forfar Heights

SERS replacement site at Strathmore Avenue

Dawson Estate Tomorrow

New public housing will be introduced to transform the area. Key ideas and concepts include 'Housing in a Park', sky gardens, multi-generation living and environmentally-friendly features. In the future, there will be a mix of public housing and private housing in Dawson Estate yielding about 10,000 units. New facilities will also be introduced.



Source: Master Plan 2008

Illustrations are artists' impressions. Actual development may differ.