

Cherished Memories

Recognising Collective Memories

As Singapore's first satellite town, Queenstown has seen much development over the years and holds many memories for its residents. To celebrate these cherished memories, heritage buildings and history murals will be woven into developments!

Repurposing SIT Flats

These 3-storey flats were built by the former Singapore Improvement Trust (SIT). With its rich heritage, some of these blocks could be repurposed for uses that will serve the community.

Community Projects

Residents will have the opportunity to co-create captivating murals near their homes, that will evoke cherished memories of the past. These murals could also facilitate wayfinding for people of all ages.

Wayfinding murals co-created with residents at Starting View precinct.

Seen these murals around the neighbourhood? They were co-created with residents like yourself!

Converting the roof deck of 88-78 Commonwealth Ave into a gardening hub, with Singapore's first rooftop art inspired by the neighbour's Nalika heritage.
