

New Homes for All

Green Living by the Ulu Pandan Canal and Rail Corridor

Residents can look forward to more than 6,000 new homes to be completed by 2030. As part of the Health District @ Queenstown, the new housing developments are designed with a variety of recreational and communal facilities to enhance residents' physical, social, and mental well-being. With their modern facilities and amenities, these new housing developments will also rejuvenate the town with a quality living environment for all ages.

Draft Master Plan 2025

As Singapore is a city-state with limited land, forward planning is important to ensure that Singapore remains liveable and sustainable. HDB is working closely with the Urban Redevelopment Authority (URA) on the Draft Master Plan 2025 (DMP25), to translate strategies developed with Singaporeans in the Long-Term Plan into detailed plans for our future housing estates. We agree to provide a range of housing options to meet the evolving needs of Singaporeans, as well as create vibrant towns and communities.

We hope to co-develop DMP25 with you, to make Singapore even more liveable, inclusive and endearing for everyone. Join us in shaping Singapore's future together in the DMP25 scan the QR code for more information.

Tanglin Halt

Developed from the 1960s, Tanglin Halt was identified for the Selective En bloc Redevelopment Scheme (SERS) in 2014. As part of the rejuvenation of the estate, residents can look forward to new housing developments and amenities.

Tanglin Halt is known for its 10-storey blocks or "chup lau chu". In an effort to recall the history and heritage of the area, housing blocks fronting the Rail Corridor would be kept at 10 storeys. Precinct facilities are also sited alongside the Rail Corridor so that residents can enjoy amidst lush greenery, which can be beneficial for physical and mental well-being.
